

Thomas' Transplants

The name Berl Thomas has become synonymous with transplants. To continue fulfilling the industry demands for seedling technology, Thomas, former president and CEO of Speedling, Inc. and Twyford International, Inc. has formed a new company, Thomas Seedling Technology Systems, a Division of Berl Thomas and Associates, Inc.

In 35 years, Thomas has developed more than 100 different crop seedling systems. Thomas Seedling Technology Systems will take some of the knowledge Thomas has acquired over the years and provide global leadership in seedling and agricultural technology for growers worldwide, with a strong emphasis on China.

The activities of the new company will center around several main priorities including:

- Introducing seedling technology into China and other countries.